Uttarakhand and Handloom & Handicraft Development Council (UHHDC) is an apex body under the industry Department, constituted by the Government of Uttarakhand for complete integration and development of the handloom and handicraft sector in the state. UHHDC acts as a facilitator to motivate, guide and organize weavers and artisans and provide them a common platform for direct constituents Uttarakhand, a rich state in natural resources have created and nurtured various forms of arts and crafts since ages. The State specializes in production of woollen handlooms, cotton handlooms, silk products, products of other natural fibers, cooperwares, ringaal based products, wax work, aipan art and many more innovative combinations. The handloom and handicrafts products of Uttarakhand have always been in a great demand both in the country and abroad.

Woing to the stiff competition faced by these arts and crafts from the modern and cheap machine-made products, the government of Uttarakhand felt the need to take concrete step for their revival and Promotion in order to prevent this precious creativity from fading away. Hence in order to commercially promote the handlooms and handicrafts of the state, UHHDC under the brand name "Himadri" sells the indigenous products in retail showrooms with the same name. The "Himadri" Emporiums, situated in various major places of Uttarakhand as well as in the national capital Delhi, are a window to Uttarakhand's art, culture and rich heritage.
